Duration: 8:00AM to 11:00AM

Location: Nithya Sumangali Thayar Goshala, Jalladianpet, Pallikaranai, Chennai – 600 100.

- People Participation and activities: The enthusiastic GoPals team of 11 members assembled around 8.00 AM in the Goshala. Team had brief interaction with the Goshala caretaker on the daily rituals in the Goshala and commenced the planned event activities.

- The event kicked off with feeding agathi keerai (a spinach variety) and banana to the cows and bulls in the Goshala. There were around 20 cows and 5 bulls which are of Kanchi Kuttai variety, the native breed of Chennai and its surrounding districts.
- After feeding the cows, they were let off roam around. GoPals team split into small groups to clean the Goshala. The team cleared the cow dung on the floor and washed the entire Goshala shed area with water where the cows live.
- Post the cleaning “Divine prasadam” was offered by the Goshala management to the GoPals volunteers.
- GoPals team discussed on the awareness of preserving native cow breeds and the importance on the Cow products like Cow dung.

- Goshala management thanked the GoPals team on the event and encouraged to conduct more such events in future in this Goshala. GoPals team reciprocated by presenting them the Cow Products.
- The event concluded around 11AM which not only gave a satisfied feel on spending quality time with Cows but also on resonating awareness on preserving native cow breeds.
